Attended and distance learning options

Attended learning

- Learning is delivered by highly interactive workshops and by innovative and challenging tutors who are specialists in their subject areas.
- Each workshop is supported with comprehensive and interactive workbooks and study guides which need completion beforehand as these form part of the learning and assessment.
- Each session is also supported by post-workshop activities and assessments.

Distance learning

This programme can be started anytime, anywhere and you can work at your own pace.

You will complete the qualification through:

- Completion of workbooks
- Progressive assessments
- Webinars with our experienced tutors
- Interactive forums for discussions with your peers.

Improvement reports and Business Plans

The certificate and diploma programmes require a fully costed Improvement Report or Business Plan which is designed to deliver service improvement, effectiveness and cost savings - and map out a significant positive change for the organisation. This is based in the real life challenges the organisation is facing and are designed to provide a springboard for adoption and implementation.

Participants must work in collaboration during the programme and the final assessment is the delivery of a 20 minute presentation on the proposed improvement to peers and optionally to the organisation's senior management

What is the time commitment?

You will need to set aside on average 4 hours per week to complete the programme (this applies to the award, certificate and diploma).
